This isn't your average workshop - it's part recovery, part real talk, part reckoning.

We're digging into what it really takes to stay grounded when everything around you is shifting. Through raw, honest conversations with leaders who've been through the fire of building careers and businesses, this workshop is designed to hit different.

You'll move, react, connect, and leave with tools (and truths) to build personal and professional resilience that actually sticks. No fluff. No PowerPoints. No BS. Just the stuff that matters.
